La Roche D'Hys – Domaine des Arts, is a 22 acre former farm domain situated in the heart of the Auxois Region of Burgundy in FRANCE about 50 Km north west of the city of DIJON.

La Roche D'Hys – Domaine des Arts was created by Canadians Howard and Jeannette Aster as an international professional development centre to host special projects which stimulate creative thinking and offer a forum for the exchange of ideas.

La Roche D'Hys provides an ideal European campus for intensive summer courses, workshops and masterclasses in all arts disciplines.

Nestled between a dramatic rock escarpment and a magnificent valley of rolling hills and pastures, surrounded only by forests and the occasional wild-life, the Domaine des Arts is the perfect environment to leave the rest of the world behind and concentrate fully on the work at hand.

The Académie de la Roche D'Hys is the structure which administrates the arts programmes which take place at the Domaine des Arts.
